"ORUMA" POSTER MAKING COMPETITION

In alignment with the nationwide celebration of National Anti-Ragging Day and National Anti-Ragging Week from 12-18 August, all higher education institutions in India joined forces to promote ragging-free campuses. As part of this initiative, the Anti-Ragging Cell, in collaboration with IEI-CSE, organized a poster-making competition titled "Oruma." This event, designed as a 2-hour designathon, saw enthusiastic participation from students across various departments, showcasing their creativity and commitment to the cause of creating a safe and inclusive campus environment.

The competition garnered significant interest, with 25 teams registering for the event, totaling around 40 participants. The event provided a platform for students to express their understanding and ideas about anti-ragging through art and design.

The event was conducted under the expert guidance of Ms. Aswathy Wilson, Assistant Professor of the CSE Department. The event was meticulously coordinated by Abhijith Suresh (S7 CSE-A) and Joseph Martin (S7 CSE-B), who ensured the smooth execution of the competition.

Dr. Saju P. John, Head of the CSE Department, delivered a powerful message on the importance of anti-ragging initiatives. His address highlighted the critical role that students and faculty play in maintaining a safe and inclusive campus environment.

The competition was fierce, with all participants putting forth their best efforts. After careful deliberation by the judges, the following teams were declared winners: Sachin E N and Reve from S5 CSE B won the first prize, Alan Jose Santo and Abhiram V S from S5 CSE A secured the second prize, and Neeraj from S5 CSE B received the third prize.

The prize pool for the competition was generously sponsored by IEI, amounting to 5000. The prizes were distributed as follows: 2500 for the first prize, 1500 for the second prize, and 1000 for the third prize.

The "Oruma" poster-making competition was a resounding success, reflecting the dedication of the students and the support of the faculty. The event not only showcased the artistic talents of the participants but also reinforced the importance of anti-ragging measures on campus. The collaboration between the Anti-Ragging Cell and IEI-CSE proved to be effective, ensuring that the message of anti-ragging was conveyed powerfully and creatively.
